Old Frigate Saratoga of Pennsylvania Reaches Port After Weathering Heavy Storm

DELEWARE BREAKWATER, Del., Feb. 11.-Storm-swept and leaking, the Pennsylvania school ship Saratoga, which left Philadelphia January 2 for a winter's cruise in West Indies, was towed into the harbor here yesterday.

nt Sen

On January 27 when 200 miles north of Bermuda the old frigate was struck by a northwest gale, which sent the vessel floundering through seas which for a time threatened to engulf it. For days the Saratoga was hove to, bu the seas continued to strike its blunt bow until a leak was sprung. Commander Atwater put all available hands to the pumps, and none of the sixty boys on board hesitated to do all possible to assist in bringing the vessel back The Saratoga is an old-time frigate built in 1842.

MARTIN WANTS THE EVIDENCE Congressman Denies Charges and

Asks Committee to Be Specific and Name Accusers. PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 11 .- (Special.) -- Congressman Martin tonight wired Senator Dudley of Fall River county denying that there is any basis for the charges against him, and requesting that the committee state more specifically what it has heard against him and that it furnish the names of the parties making the charges. Resolutions will be introduced in both houses tomorrow demanding that the committee act in accordance with the requests of Congressman Martin.

The house this afternoon refused to go on record against nepotism, defeating the Van Osdell resolution, condemning such practice, by a vote of 55 to 25. The resolution caused considerable debate and Browne declared it to be another attempt to wash Yankton county linen in public and wanted them to clean up at home.

With a favorable report of the elections committee in the house on the senate equal suffrage amendment, it now looks as if the question would be a factor in the next general election.

The house pushed through a greater colume of business today than at any other hearing was presented by the investigating Watertown Hospital for the Insane, which be the first week in June. was provided for in the session of two years ago, by repeal of the act creating it. The anti-treating bill was on the calendar for action, but went over until tomorrow to allow its amendment. The bill putting the clerk of the supreme court on a salary instead of fees passed the house without a dissenting vote, the salary being fixed

The senate did not meet until 2 o'clock, and held a short session, in which the only bill of general importance presented was the tenure of office bill for employes of the state charitable and penal institutions, practically the same measure which met defeat in the house a few days ago.

The senate passed the senate bill prothe constitutional convention of 1889 and the ture of denatured alcohol.

The mountain streams of Colorado, by reason of their clear and pure water, are particularly adapted for the various species of game fish, generally characterized as trout. Realizing this fact, both the national and state governments have expended large sums of money in the construction of strictly modern hatcheries in this state for the proper care and distribution of young fish. The principal hatchery of the national government is located at the foot of Mount Massive, near Lendville, with branches at Twin lakes and at Grand Mess lakes. The hatcheries instituted by the state of Colorado are located at Denever, Gunnison. Durango, Steamboat Springs and Gienwood Springs. All of these hatcheries are in charge of experienced men who devote their entire time and attention to the propagation of young trout, and gather the spawn from the various streams and lakes, from whonce they are taken to the hatcheries, and under accentific care and direction are hatched, and the fish thus brought forth are given

BOYS CHAMPING THEIR BITS excellent care until the time for planting

The management of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, appreciating the value of good fishing grounds, has co-operated extensively with the national and state fish authorities, and has placed at their disposal all the facilities of a large railway system, with the result that great quantities of young fish have been planted in the streams adjacent to its line. Prior to 1904, approximately 3,000,000 trout Prior to 1994, approximately $,000,000 trout were planted annually in the streams of Colorado. During the years 1904, the Colorado state hatcheries planted $,500,000, and the pational government hatcheries 2,306,000, atotal of 6,325,000 trout planted in the streams during the season. In 1905 the state hatcheries planted 2,967,000 trout and the government hatcheries 4,702,000, making a grand total of 7,669,000 trout planted during the season. In 1906 the state hatcheries nlanted 4,183,000 trout and, the government hatcheries planted 4,185,000 making a grand total of over $,000,000 for last year.

When Oscar Wasem and Matt Simmer meet at the Auditorium tenight in their wrestling match, the two will not be well matched in size, as Simmer weighs seventy pounds more than Wasem. This, however, does not discourage Wasem, who says; "I will work him down to my size." Ed Morgan, who is to wrestle in the preliminaries, is a great favorite in Omaha, and has conducted a wrestling school here for some years. While not as large as the heavier wrestlers who have been seen here of late, he is quite active and will be able to hold his own in most any company. Manager Gillan will again build the arena in the middle of the Auditorium, so a splendid view may be had from all the seats. The winner of this match will be challenged by Farmer Burns for a match on Washington's birthday. Simmer is a powerful man and at Osthod's hall last Friday night ensity raised a 240-pound man by one hand.

WITH THE BOWLERS.

The Krug Parks won the straight series of three games from the O. D. K.s. at the association alleys last night. The handicap figured in favor of the brewers, but they won in each game on actual pins by a good markin. Marbie surprised himself, as well as the crowd, with the high single game and total. Tonight the teams are the Dreshers and Mets Brothers. Score:

O. D. K's. KRUG PARKS. 3. 209 183 209 200 181 16 Brock Defeats Whitney.
